Class In Session

Those Drastic Lunch Periods!

Learning the Tools of the Trade!

That same old grind, day in, day out!

No, students aren't getting smaller! This is Play School, sponsored by the Home Ec. girls, for children ages 3 to 5.

ADMINISTRATION

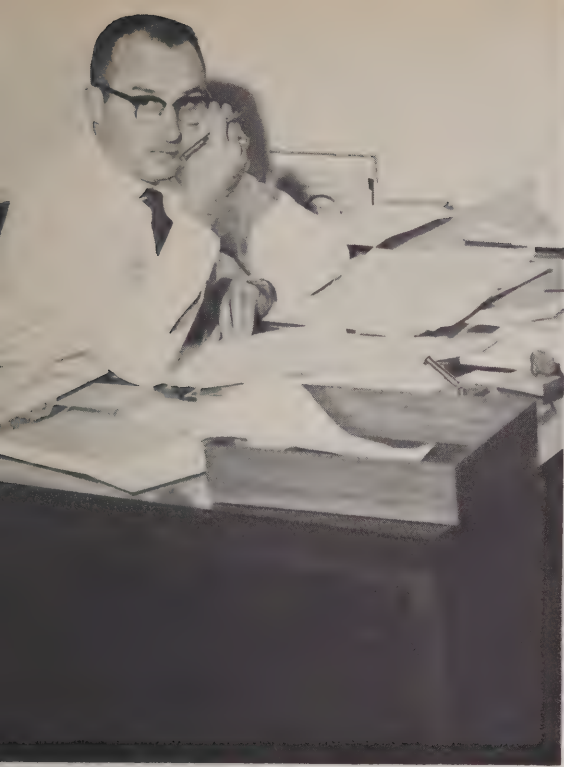

Mr. Willard Hawkins has been superintendent of Garrett County Schools for ten years. Prior to coming to our county, he had served as principal of Bel Air and Cambridge High Schools. He has been President of the Maryland Association of Secondary School Principals and President of Maryland School Superintendent Association. His honors include a John Hay's Fellowship to Colorado College and a special scholarship to Harvard College. Just this past year, he was one of seventy-nine school administrators chosen throughout the United States to participate in a six week tour and study of the Swedish school system.

Mr. Albert Ringer received his A. B. Degree from Fairmont State Teachers College and his Masters Degree from West Virginia University. He came to Southern in 1955 after teaching a short time in Northern High School. He studied Russian and German in the United States Army Language School in California. Mr. Ringer took the position as Director of Instruction of the Garrett County School in the fall of 1960.

To those of you who will be receiving diplomas, our professional staff extends their sincere congratulations. This represents a reward for long effort, and will prove of real value in the future. Never before was a sound education more highly rated and never was a solid background more essential to future success.

While stepping out into life's greater opportunities with diplomas, you must remember that you are just commencing. What has transpired to this point is more or less training.

The possibilities which lie ahead for each of you are almost unlimited. In a world in which distance has lost its significance and space has become a link instead of a barrier, in which political, economic, and social problems transcend national boundaries, national sovereignty has lost some of its relevance. Our world is in a time of transition. The old order is changing. Long established traditions are giving away to new ideas. Dramatic advance in medicine, reducing infant mortality and extending the life span have brought about revolutionary changes in our personal lives. Automation and technology have improved our way of life. There has been a great explosion of knowledge.

Yet with this vast store of knowledge opening wider day by day, there are many implications and problems which we have not had to cope in years gone by. Perhaps the greatest threat to us as a result of successive breakthrough in science and technology is our apparent concern for material benefits. Let us not forget that while science and technology, when properly used, can be the greatest blessing that mankind has ever known, but improperly used, these advances can destroy us. Thus, there is a greater need today for young men and women of honesty, sincerity, goodwill and absolute integrity to maintain an equilibrium in a world where all too often false standards and false values are the order of the day. Let us not fall into the error of taking it for granted that better material standards automatically make people, because unfortunately, they do not. We must again, relearn and reaffirm the lesson that men shall not live by bread alone.

Let us also remember that there can be dignity in all occupations, whether they are professional, skilled, semi-skilled or general labor. Let us never reach the point where the character of the individual is determined by socio-economic factors. Respect each individual for what he is as a person and not his position on the social or economic ladder of life.

A wise philosopher once said, "Without dew and light flowers fade. Charity and love are the dew and light of the human heart."

... WE SALUTE OUR FACULTY

A circular photograph of a busy workshop or factory floor, viewed through a circular frame. The frame is surrounded by concentric circles and handwritten numbers, suggesting a scale or measurement. The scene inside the circle shows several workers in a large room with overhead lights, working on machinery or equipment.

WE WILL REMEMBER SOUTHERN

. . . . a seething, breathing building which opened her arms to us.

She nourished us with hope, happiness sometimes tears.

She encourages us to cling to those distant dreams, which have, at times, seemed so elusive.

She always understood as we stumbled along the way.

Southern Urging, ever urging, us on toward the crest of adulthood.

A farewell note

We are traveling forward now, and new doors are opened to us. We have had many new and different experiences at Southern--some good--some frightening.

We have participated in many class and extracurricular activities.

In the 7th grade we were very frightened of the thought of being part of such a large school. As 8th graders we became used to the long corridors and ever-ringing bells. We were led from freshmen to sophomores--our first step in high school. We were feeling like old pro's then! As juniors we took another big step, we attended our first prom, received our class rings, and moved closer to adulthood.

Our final step came as seniors. We participated in all the usual events and worried about making passing grades. Then came the final step--graduation--and our departure from Southern.

A year to be remembered always. The symbols of inevitable citizenship were received--our class rings.

Our ability of organization, leadership, and presentation were evident in the prom.

The realization of becoming seniors and wonder; yet hope and enthusiasm will lead us on toward our goal of everlasting success and eternal happiness.

STUDENT COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVE

Suddenly we become aware that the lower class men are respecting and looking up to us. We receive offers to join various clubs. The Homecoming Dance is the first main activity we as sophomores are invited to attend. This year we become an active part of Senior High School life.

We are given an opportunity to take part in every Senior High activity available.

We are striving to the top, for we are now earnestly inaugurating ideas for our future. Two more steps and our stair steps of high school will be completed with a resplendent future awaiting.

At this stage you are suddenly given a name, Freshman. You are new and just beginning the best part of your school days. The years following till graduation are the ones you will remember the most.

You are now on the bottom of a four step ladder. Each year from now on will advance you one step closer to your diploma and graduation. Your grades are now being kept on file for reference by colleges and employers. They really become important now that you are being ranked in accordance with your grades. Every single grade you make will either bring you up or take you down in your class rating. Will you end up on top or on the bottom?

Southern a monstrous building with a maze of long halls and rooms woven together. This was our first impression as we entered Southern for the first time.

As we walked through the doors of learning into the world of opportunity, we suddenly realized just how insignificant we were as the masses of people nearly overwhelmed us.

However, our eagerness to learn in this new environment and our desire to make our future a reality spurred us on.

As we near the end of the year, again we have a feeling of anticipation and anxiety, but now it is for the future and the five years ahead of us in which we will undergo a complete change.

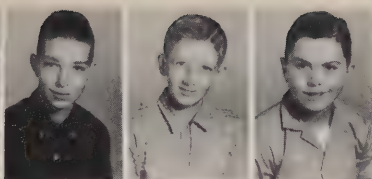

It is with great hopes and aspirations that we look into the future our future at Southern.

Meeting a deadline.

Taping a radio program.

Homeroom brings the day's announcements and a chance to wake up before the work really begins.

Now the work really begins -- Second period is science. Mr. Miller brings the mysteries of life to the wondering mind.

For this student, band begins the day. Some find that music at least starts the day with a song.

Third period is general business and more study. About this time every student dreams of 3:15 P.M.

T'S DAY

Fourth period is on the other side of the line; half the day is over. Concentration on history is a little hard to obtain.

The puzzled expressions do not mean that this is a foreign language class, although to some it may as well be. It's English!

A break at last -- lunch. This is a time to relax from classes and study.

Last period is typing. Everyone works hard until the bell that ends a student's day.

SNOWFLAKE SWIRL

The two extremes?

PROJECTS

INITIATION

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds

...

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others.

I believe in less dependence on begging
and more power in bargaining.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life . . .

The candidates for initiation enter the room single file and are conducted to the President's Station. They are stopped on their way at four points by members representing the obstacles: Ignorance,
Waste, Indolence, and Isolation.

When the candidates go back through these stations Ignorance is replaced by Wisdom, Waste by Thrift, Indolence by Labor, and Isolation by Cooperation.

Arriving again at the President's station, they are welcomed as Green
Hands, the first stage in being a member of the F.F.A.

The Owl is the symbol of wisdom and knowledge.

The plow is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil.

The rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are trained and have learned to cooperate.

The cross section of an ear of corn represents common agricultural interests since corn is native to America and grown in every State.

The eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization.

"Smile! You're on Southern's Camera."

"Tell me about it!"

You got another thought coming, buster.

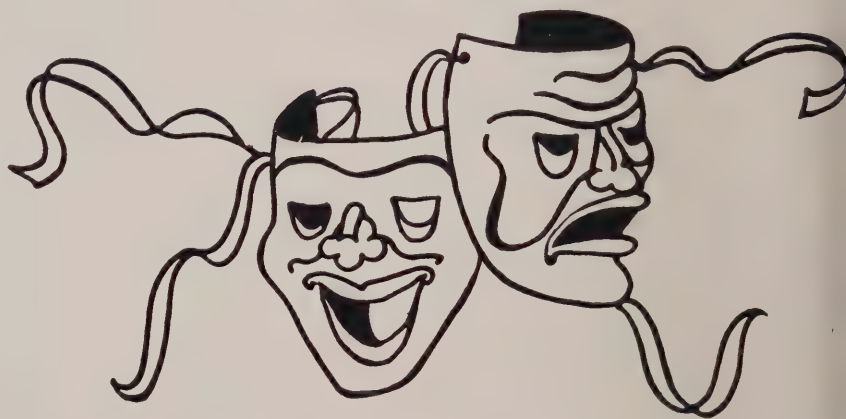

"Do you remember the Senior Class Play?"

What do you think my room is?
Devil's Island!

"Act IRRESPONSIBLE!"

"Thanks to MR. CRONE!"

"Let me Go!"

A circular photographic plate, likely a microfilm or a similar archival format, featuring a central black and white photograph of a town. The town is nestled in a valley, with a prominent church spire visible on the right side. The surrounding landscape includes rolling hills and fields. The plate is surrounded by concentric rings of handwritten numbers in dark ink. The numbers are arranged in a circular pattern, with some appearing in the outer ring and others in the inner ring. The numbers include 200, 1175, 150, 125, 100, 50, 25, 10, 5, 2, 1.0, 5.6, 3.2, 4.1, 5.6, 17, 21, 15, 11, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1. The numbers are written in a cursive, handwritten style. The plate itself has a metallic, reflective surface, and the central image is a high-contrast black and white photograph.
